Choosing Your Down Comforter

STEP 1. Choose your fabric.

All DeWoolfson comforters are made with fabric supplied by the same German or Austrian suppliers on whom DeWoolfson has relied for the world's finest, most durable and trusted downproof fabrics for nearly four decades. And, each fabric is different. Our saying is that a great comforter provides "warmth without weight." So, if you agree, choose a lighter fabric for a very delicate warmth.

STEP 2. Choose your warmth level.

If you are unsure of what warmth level is best for you, choose one weight lighter than what you think you need. DeWoolfson will gladly add additional down fill to your comforter any time up to one year from the date of purchase, charging only for additional down added. We cannot remove down from the baffled box construction.

CANADIAN WINTER*

STEP 3. Choose your down by fill power.

Comforters can be made warmer either by adding more ounces of fill, or by using a higher fill power down. Fill power is the measurement of the ability of 1 ounce of down to loft and trap air. For example, 1 ounce of 650 down will fill a volume of 650 cu. in. A 750 fill power down is about 15% warmer than one with 650 fill power in the same number of ounces. So if you believe that the joy of a down comforter is "warmth without weight," then choose one made from a lighter fabric and a higher fill power down. We use only responsibly sourced, all European large cluster white goose down that is washed, sorted and tested in the USA. Please allow 1 to 3 business days for your comforter to be filled, finished and shipped from our North Carolina plant.

STEP 4. Consult this chart to help make your choice.

Batiste COMFORTER

If a down comforter means “warmth without weight” then this is surely one of the finest down comforters we can make. The lightweight, German-engineered batiste fabric is woven from specialized yarns, resulting in one of the world’s lightest downproof fabrics, weighing over one-third less than our other down-proof fabrics. Our Commitment

Our Fabrics. We began by searching the world for the highest quality downproof fabrics. Over time we developed close ties to textile firms in Germany and Austria that have now been producing these specialized fabrics for well over a century. To this day, the same firms continue to supply us with materials that we have come to trust and our customers have proven through use . . . although some have a new twist, such as organic cotton, natural lyocell, and ever-so-light Batiste weaves. Every fabric is certified to meet Oeko-Tex international standards for minimizing ecological impact in production and to be free from harmful chemicals. Our comforters and pillows have no fancy names; most are simply identified by their outer fabric shell.

Our Down Fills. You have our promise to use only responsibly sourced, all-European down and feather fill that has been washed, sorted and tested in the USA. We believe that down products should never be vacuum packed, never be packed in containers for a long trip to the U.S., and never be stored in a warehouse. Down should be fresh to preserve its loft. And customers should have their choice of fills and warmth levels. So at DeWoolfson, each customer's comforter, pillow or featherbed is filled at the time of order, with state-of-the-art equipment capable of weighing down to a hundredth of an ounce!

Our Adjustable Pillows. We are reminded of that old family doctor's advice . . . "Take 2 at bedtime and call me in the morning." That's what we tell our customers. No one should purchase a pillow that isn't just the right firmness. So if your DeWoolfson pillow isn't exactly perfect we'll adjust the firmness for you. Ask your sales person for details about this service . . . for which we've become so well known.
