Support Featherbeds

- All-European white goose fills, with down and small, delicate feathers. No duck, no "crushed feather".
- Compare our fill weights in pounds of fill (by size, (see below) to that of our competitors.
- Spot clean only.

 Fabric certified environmentally safe. OEKO-TEX Standard 100

Our featherbeds are often several times thicker than those of other manufacturers and contain over 25% more fill by weight. All DEWOOLFSON Down featherbeds are filled and finished within 2 business days for shipment from our North Carolina plant. Each of our support featherbeds are made from a downproof fabric in a German-engineered twill weave for years of durability and strength. They are constructed in a baffled box pattern with DeWoolfson's own unique valve system that prevents the fill from shifting. Filling is your choice of our European white goose down and feather blends. Our sizes reflect shell size before filling - oversized to perfectly fit the size of the mattress.

Our Commitment

Our Fabrics. We began by searching the world for the highest quality downproof fabrics. Over time we developed close ties to textile firms in Germany and Austria that have now been producing these specialized fabrics for well over a century. To this day, the same firms continue to supply us with materials that we have come to trust and our customers have proven through use . . . although some have a new twist, such as organic cotton, natural lyocell, and ever-so-light Batiste weaves. Every fabric is certified to meet Oeko-Tex international standards for minimizing ecological impact in production and to be free from harmful chemicals. Our comforters and pillows have no fancy names; most are simply identified by their outer fabric shell.

Our Down Fills. You have our promise to use only responsibly sourced, all-European down and feather fill that has been washed, sorted and tested in the USA. We believe that down products should never be vacuum packed, never be packed in containers for a long trip to the U.S., and never be stored in a warehouse. Down should be fresh to preserve its loft. And customers should have their choice of fills and warmth levels. So at DeWoolfson, each customer's comforter, pillow or featherbed is filled at the time of order, with state-of-the-art equipment capable of weighing down to a hundredth of an ounce!

Our Adjustable Pillows. We are reminded of that old family doctor's advice . . . "Take 2 at bedtime and call me in the morning." That's what we tell our customers. No one should purchase a pillow that isn't just the right firmness. So if your DeWoolfson pillow isn't exactly perfect we'll adjust the firmness for you. Ask your sales person for details about this service . . . for which we've become so well known.
